MANDATE

In Somaliland, Handicap International aims to strengthen rehabilitation services for war victims and people with disabilities. The association has to develop prevention and healthcare services in the field of HIV/AIDS and to support local disabled people organization. By conducting these actions, Handicap International promotes disabled people rights, and especially children rights.

SITUATION

Handicap International operates predominantly in Somaliland and Puntland, a self-declared republic and autonomous state, respectively. In 1991, Somaliland proclaimed itself a state after three years of bloody civil war. The international community considers it as part of Somalia but is governed as an independent country since 1992. Puntland, in north-east Somalia, has been an independent state since 1998. In general, Somaliland is currently fairly calm and functional but the security situation is fragile because of weak state control, ineffective law enforcement and the proliferation of small arms and light weapons. Handicap International has so far operated freely in every region of Somaliland and Puntland.

BACKGROUND

In 1992, Handicap International launched its presence in Somaliland with the set up of a rehabilitation centre (HRC = Hargeisa Rehabilitation Centre) with its partner Disability Action Network (dan) in Hargeisa, the capital of the region. Nine years later, the centre became completely independent on the technical level, following the training of physiotherapy, orthopaedic and psychomotricity assistants. A further reinforcement of Handicap International's presence was marked by projects such as support for local associations working towards the socio-economic inclusion of people with disabilities, renewing irrigation structures for agricultural holdings in the Berbera region and a mine risk education project. The opening of a Handicap International office in Puntland in 2007 has allowed the organisation to set up partner networks and improve its knowledge of the region, with the possibility of conducting similar actions to those successfully taken in Somaliland. Handicap International is registered with the Somaliland Ministry of Planning and Aid Coordination and works in partnership/close collaboration with government institutions and local NGOs.
